

Module 103 is a high-quality, engaging training that models purposeful consumption of Studies Weekly and transforms your classroom.

Module 103 - 3 Hr. Training Session

Learn how to combine Studies Weekly with high-impact learning strategies to teach standards while meaningfully exploring the stories of history or phenomena of the world. Leave with at least 2 new strategies you can use tomorrow.

Using Questioning to Develop Critical Thinking

In-depth training on using primary and secondary sources to engage students and identify inquiry questions to guide learning.

Stories and Collaboration

Collaborative training on using important research-based strategies with Studies Weekly print and online resources for student-centered learning.

Authentic Student Assessment

Hands-on training on the use of differentiated assessments including: paper-pencil, online, writing prompts and student-created projects and artifacts.

Additional Resources

Distance Learning

Distance Learning access is free with Studies Weekly purchase, and includes: training videos, how-to's and live webinar walkthroughs of Studies Weekly Online.

In-Person Workshops

We know teacher-training time is valuable, so we can train groups of teachers or use the train-the-trainer model of instruction. Available by request.

To request School or District training contact Customer Support at:
1-866-311-8734 or support@studiesweekly.com